

Permission and Waiver Form

Kelsie's Kintsugi and The Mend & Bloom Foundation (the "Organizer") conducts activities involving potentially hazardous tools and materials such as, but not limited to: chemicals with fumes; sharp points, blades, and edges; pottery shards; hammers; paints, pigments, and dyes; and substances that are toxic if ingested or inhaled. Various risks include but are not limited to: bodily injury; loss of life, limb, or property; and adverse health effects. The Organizer takes all possible care to minimize inherent risks but cannot make guarantees against factors over which it has little or no control, especially as activities are hosted in venues operated by third parties.

No claims are made as to medical or clinical benefits of participating in the Organizer's activities. The workshop material, projects, crafts, activities, and results of activities by the Organizer are provided as-is and without warranty of any kind.

Photography Release

Participants expressly consent and authorize the Organizer to use, at its sole discretion without limitation or obligations, photographs, videos, and/or audio recordings which may include the participant's image, voice, and/or artwork, for any purposes the Organizer deems fit, including but not limited to: education, marketing, promotion, advertising, and social media.
